Gender Equality Trainer Database List

Integrity: who is behind the Gender Equality Trainer Database List?

The database list has been developed by a Strategic Partnership in the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union consisting of institutions and organisations in Austria, Iceland, Lithuania and Croatia, led by the Lower Austrian Government, department for generations, unit women and gender equality.

How can I be registered for the Gender Equality Trainer Database List?

Complete the registration form and send it to the coordinator. Create your profile by disclosure of information and include a photo. Inform potential contractors with some meaningful references about your experiences. Information will be presented in form of a list of trainers.

What does PROFILE mean for the Gender Equality Trainer Database?

Information, data and short concise statements regarding your person and your experiences; (language) knowledge and training areas for gender equality. Links to your own website (if applicable) with more references and detailed information.

What costs will occur for me to be registered in the Gender Equality Trainer Database?

The service is free of costs for trainers. The costs for organising the service will be covered by the project GenderStrat 4Equality, after that the partner organisations of the project will be responsible for updates.

How and when my data and information with my profile will be online?

Each registration will be examined through contacting the trainer directly or through a written confirmation of a reliable source known to one of the project partners.

Can I delete my profile or withdraw from the Gender Equality Database?

Withdrawing from the database list will be possible at any time. Just inform the coordinator via e-mail or telephone.

Can I announce seminars in my profile?

You can provide links to a certain website where detailed information of your seminars are given.

Whom can I contact in case of further questions?
